INTRODUCTION

The Amity Law School Noida in collaboration with School of Business and Law, Edith Cowan University, Western Australia is proud to organize the 2nd Annual International Conference on Comparative Constitutional Law (ICCCL 2020) on 5th- 6th March, 2020 (Thurs-Fri) at Amity Law School Noida. The theme of the Conference is "Identifying and Analysing the Challenges of the Constitutional Framework of India and Australia." The conference is being organized in academic partnership with NALSAR University of Law (Hyderabad), Ram Manohar Lohia National Law University (Lucknow), Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law (Punjab), H.P. National Law University (Himachal Pradesh), Dharmashastra National Law University (Madhya Pradesh) and Himalayan Garhwal University, (Uttarakhand).

BACKGROUND

The Amity Law School, Amity University, Noida had organized the 1st International Conference on Comparative Constitutional Law in February, 2019 with the Adelaide Law School, University of Adelaide, Australia as the co-host. The specific theme of the conference was "Comparing and Contrasting the Constitutional Models of India and Australia". The conference witnessed key note speeches from learned Vice-Chancellors from several NLUs alongwith the Director of Indian Law Institute, New Delhi as well as by the senior academicians and research scholars from four Australian Universities from namely the Adelaide Law School, University of Adelaide; RMIT University, Melbourne; Edith Cowan University, Perth and; University of Brisbane. The conference concluded with the most elite panel comprising of Hon'ble Mr. Justice Deepak Gupta (Former CJI, Supreme Court of India), Hon'ble Mr. Justice Chandra Shekhar (Judge, Delhi High Court) and Hon'ble Mr. Justice Prateek Jalan (Judge, Delhi High Court) besides Senior Advocates, Supreme Court of India, Ms. Geeta Luthra and Mr. Prashanto Chandra Sen, an alumni from Oxford University, UK.

OBJECTIVE

The constitutional law has always fascinated lawyers and law researchers of every jurisdiction due to its fundamental importance in governance. It has grown manifold in complexity due to globalization, democracy and human rights law regime. It has made it imperative to look at the growth and development of the constitutional law of any given country not only from an internal lens but also from outside and even compare it with other regimes. The study of comparative constitutional law enables us to compare and contrast the similarities and dissimilarities between various legal systems and provides alternative perspectives and mature understanding in legal, economic, social, political and other related contexts.

The conference aims to bring together Law Practitioners, Researchers, Academicians and Students to deliberate and critically analyse the major contemporary developments in the field of Constitutional law in comparative perspective. The Conference aims at academic discourse through the following modes:

- Technical Sessions
- Keynote Speeches
- Invited and Submitted Papers

THEMES

- Constitutional Liberties, Freedoms and Rights in the context of National Security
- Relevance of Nationalism and Sovereignty in the era of Globalization
- Challenges to Secularism in a pluralistic society
- Welfare State and Changing contours of Citizenship
- Vulnerable sections of society viz. women, children, refugees, minorities, elderly, third gender etc.
- Role of Constitutional Duties in nation building
- Role of Judiciary in promoting constitutionalism
- Regulation of Social Media in Constitutional Governance
